Prompt Response Made to Message from the President.

Supplies on the Ships Celtic and Culgoa, Now En Route to Scene of Disaster, Valued at $300,000. Additional Half Million Will Be Sent, as It Is Needed to Allay the Sufferers of the Survivors.

In answer to a message from the President Congress yesterday passed a bill appropriating $800,000 for the sufferers from the earthquake in Southern Italy.

Three hundred thousand dollars of the amount covers that already expended for EIGHTY-CENT GAS provisions and supplies on board the ships Celtic and Culgoa, now en route to the scene of the disaster, and the balance will be expended for the relief of the victims as the President sees fit.

MORE THAN NINE MILLION DOLLARS IS NOW DUE TO THE CONSUMERS OF GAS

The overcharge of twenty cents per thousand feet of gas paid by all patrons of the six companies in New York now amounts to more than $9,000,000, and most of it is in the hands of John A. Shields, special master appointed by the United States Circuit

Though the patrons hold rebate receipts, the lawyers in the case do not believe the money will be handed back to them at once. The gas company is expected to begin the suit over again.

The money now in the possession of Mr. Shields is in the physical possession of these seven national banks, which pay 2 per

Of this amount, $4,963,720 was paid to Special Master Shields up to October 14, last year, when Judge Hough stopped the payment from the company to the master. Since then the rebate money from customers has been accumulating in the treasury of the Consolidated. Interest had been paid by the Consolidated until

The remainder of the amount, $3,965,050, was turned over to the special master by the five other companies, the New York Mutual, the New Amsterdam, the Standard, the Central Union, and the Northern Union gas companies. Some of them had made payment as late as last Saturday.
